

The News.

A note from Mayor Mitchell, published elsewhere, conveys the pleasing intelligence that the principal cities in Wisconsin are to be burned, and that Janesville is included in the programme. We referred to a probability of that kind some weeks ago, and endeavored to arouse the powers that be to the necessity of organizing a vigilant police and night watch.

The latest news from Sherman is through rebel sources and is contradictory. The Richmond Whig of the 6th says his army has united and is marching with measured tread toward the coast. It also anticipates a battle before the close of the present week. The Register of the same date, states that Wheeler has inflicted a severe blow upon Sherman's cavalry under Kilpatrick, which occurred on Sunday last. The Dispatch of the 6th, says Sherman has become alarmed and exhausted, and for five days has made but five miles per day.

These are rebel views of the situation, and are no doubt quite different reports than General Sherman would make. Richmond papers expect an attack from Grant soon.

Little Phil Sheridan is making clean and thorough work in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be a poor place to winter. Cold closed at 2:30.

The Rock County Agricultural Society.

Editor's Gazette:—A correspondent in last evening's number of your paper, over the signature of "Labor," makes the re-organization of our Agricultural Society the text for a communication which contains so much that is manifestly erroneous and absurd that I write a hurried note in reply. "Labor's" notion of education seems to be realized in that method of training which fits a man to make money; for he sets out with the very foolish statement that "one of the best educated men he ever knew, could neither read nor write," and to prove how well the man was "educated," he goes on to tell how his hero started in life without a dollar, but by the practice of industry and economy he managed to die rich and respectable, as though the chief end of existence was fulfilled thereby. And this idea of accumulating property runs through his entire article. He complains of our system of education, and asserts that the graduates of our schools are "less fitted for the real duties of life than when they entered them!" A second Daniel comes to judgement, truly. And so our teachers, professors and educators have been ruining the people by their "false" and "pernicious" system of educating the youth of our land; and the only way to remedy the crying evil appears to be to re-organize the Rock County Agricultural Society upon a sound financial basis and elevate "Labor" to the presidency who will teach our young men how to become the best educated men of the country without bothering their brains about those foolish accomplishments called reading and writing! Think what a saving it would be to the country in the one article of school books, from little Tommy's primer up to Euclid and Virgil, not to speak of school houses and school taxes!

Your correspondent last evening endeavored to make a point against our present system of education by calling it "wordy," and "pernicious," and in order that I shall not misrepresent him, I will quote the paragraph which follows:

"Except for what are technically called the learned professions, law, medicine and divinity, nine-tenths of what they have been taught is positively useless, and worse, pernicious, for it interferes with the acquiring of that knowledge which is absolutely necessary to enable them to comply with the great law of their creation, to get their living by the sweat of their brow and become useful members of society."

Now if this were true, it would be very easy for "Labor" to prove it, but as he does not attempt to adduce any, it is hardly worth while to argue the negative side of the question; but we will say simply that somehow the graduates of our schools and colleges have been heard from in the world's report of the true and faithful men of every age, quite as often as those educated men spoken of by "Labor," who can neither read nor write!

Now, I undertake to say that the defects which your correspondent thinks he sees in our educational system, are the faults of the family and not the faults of the school at all. That many a young girl can perform some of the most difficult compositions in music upon the piano, while she is entirely ignorant of the more useful details of housekeeping, is too true; but her mother and not her teacher is to blame for this. The greatest injury which a parent can inflict upon his or her child, is to allow it to grow up without acquiring habits of industry, and the expectation that the responsibilities of the home circle can be shifted to the shoulders of school teachers; is a great error but often learned too late. It is the province of the parent to teach his child how to work, and it is the duty of the teacher to aid in disciplining the child's mind so that it may be prepared to make its labor effective.

Again your correspondent says:

"That there is a radical defect in our social organization, is demonstrated by the almost universal poverty and vast suffering of the laboring masses, and vast suffering among the laboring masses, as he claims. There is more ease, comfort and plenty found in the abodes of the laboring classes of America than among any other people upon the face of the earth. And it is difficult to tell just what "Labor" means by the laboring classes. Are they the men who till the soil, or operate our railroads, or do our mining, or navigate the high seas, or do our trading, or follow some professional pursuit? Are they not all workers? Does not the over-taxed cashier earn the honorable title of laborer, quite as much as the hod carrier or the wood sawyer? The minister in his study and the lawyer preparing his cases, earn their living by the sweat of their brow, as truly, and I say as honorably, as the man who hourly sweeps the stable sweat from his brow, or brouses the cheek while following the plow, or toiling at the anvil. All these are the true laboring classes of America, and as a class, they are the most independent people under heaven.

But what has all this to do with the re-organization of our Agricultural Society, asks somebody. Sure enough. I began by attempting to follow "Labor" and find a laborious undertaking. Just how the defects of our educational system are to be remedied, or the short-comings of home culture are to be provided for by a county Agricultural Society, is a matter not quite obvious to my blunted perceptions. Possibly it may teach Sally Ann to think more of cheese and less of crinoline, to learn her how to mix good biscuit before she mixes in the gray water, to knit a comfortable mitten before bestowing that uncomfortable article upon some unfortunate being, and to learn what proportion of flour, yeast, salt and water is required in the composition of good bread before she flies to chemistry to admire the law of definite and multiple proportions.

Or possibly it may aid our David, or somebody's David in acquiring a knowledge of some of the practical duties of life, the importance of which seemed to be floating about at random in the brain of "Labor." It may not teach him to keep accounts correctly, or to cast interest, or to write newspaper articles with rhetorical vigor and grammatical accuracy and elegance, (for "Labor's" ideal of an educated man could do none of these useless things) but it may give him an idea of the necessity of a rotation of crops, as well as of office holders, may teach him the great importance of industry and economy, those great cardinal doctrines that underlie all substantial success, and which the American youth of to-day are so slow to learn.

Allow me to say, Messrs. Editors, in conclusion, that I am very anxious to see our County Agricultural Society reorganized for reasons precisely the reverse of those indicated by your correspondent "Labor." I do not expect it to reform, or even modify, our educational system as taught in the schools or learned from books, but I do hope it may tend to correct, via, revolutionize our system of education as taught at home. Here is where the root of the evil and here is where we must begin to correct it. We agree with "Labor" that great good will come of such organizations, if properly conducted. Let the right men get control of the Society, and when I say that, I mean the men themselves whose daily business fits them for its control—the farmers, mechanics and artisans of the county—not the lawyers and the politicians who are unable to tell whether potatoes grow upon stalks or in the ground. Let that great humbug ladies' equestrian displays be abolished from their fairs, and the premiums heretofore awarded in that direction, be given to the young lady that can make the best bread, exhibit the sweetest butter, or make the best fitting shirt.

My sheet is full and I stop short.

A WORKING MAN.

December 3, 1864.

A few days ago Secretary Stanton dismissed twenty clerks from the Quartermaster's Department, some on a charge of disloyalty, and some for intense zeal in opposition to Mr. Lincoln's re-election. One of them came directly to Mr. Stanton and asked him if he considered a man disloyal because he favored the election of General McClellan. "By no means," was the reply, "but when a young man receives his salary from an Administration, and spends his evenings in denouncing it in the most offensive language, he cannot complain if that Administration chooses one of its friends to take his place." This is what I have done in your case.

During the last fifteen months over five million dollars have been paid over to the Treasurer of the United States by Marshal Keyes of Massachusetts, as the proceeds of sales of captured blockade runners, whose cases have been adjudicated at Boston.

A man named Fritz was put into jail in Cincinnati on Saturday for a debt of eighteen dollars. On Sunday night he hung himself. In searching his pockets one hundred and eleven dollars in greenbacks were discovered.

Rev. J. A. B. Stowe, late President of Kalamazoo College, Michigan, has recovered from Rev. Edward Anderson, late Greek professor in the same college, $7,000, in a suit for slander.

Two Stillians had a duel in New Orleans a few days since. Each shot twice and bayoneted and stabbed once. One was killed and the other fearfully wounded.

The Official State Canvass.

The Board of Canvassers have completed the canvass of the home and military vote for Presidential electors, as far as returned to them, and the vote canvassed foots up as follows:

Home	Soldiers	Total
W. W. Field	53,102	11,752
Henry Wood	48,101	11,752
George C. Burdick	48,101	11,752
J. E. Brown	48,101	11,752
Allen Woods	48,101	11,752
H. J. Carter	48,101	11,752
H. S. Wells	48,101	11,752
H. S. Wells	48,101	11,752
H. S. Wells	48,101	11,752

The vote of Kewanee county, 157 for Lincoln, and 170 for McClellan, was rejected because no seal was attached. The vote of Ben Claire, 513 for Lincoln, to 362 for McClellan, was not received till after the canvass. The vote of Ashland county reported 32 for McClellan and 3 for Lincoln, has not yet been returned. Adding these figures to the highest vote given for elector on each side, and it makes the Lincoln vote 68,906, the McClellan vote 62,494; leaving the Union majority on the home vote 6,412.

Quite a number of scattering votes are reported, most of them through some mistake, as follows: George B. McClellan 13, George H. Pendleton 13, Gabriel Bouck 6, J. W. Caulfield 6, John B. Parkinson 6, John G. McMillan 22, H. W. Turner 131, W. J. Belts 81, Garrett T. Rhorn 139, L. Morgan 2, 2,340 to 2,432 of the soldiers' vote, from 2,340 to 2,432 votes of those received for Union electors, and from 480 to 555 for Democratic electors rejected.

The total soldiers' vote returned foots up 13,805 for Lincoln and 2,984 for McClellan, making the total Union vote $2,711 and the Democratic vote 65,478, leaving the total Union majority on the returns thus far received, 17,333.—Madison Journal.

BOLD SOLDIER "GAYS."—Two good looking "soldier gays" arrived on the train and were handed over to the Provost Marshal for safe keeping. They gave their names as Frank Martin and George Smith, the latter from Indiana. Both were rather handsome in the face, graced with delicate hands and feet and well turned ankles, and altogether quite attractive in their appearance. One of them, calculated to create a little commotion among the boys, if he were to come. After going through such a long campaign, and forming such a decided attachment for wearing the breeches, he had no disposition to give up his present attire for that of boots. The handsome couple were furnished last night with quarters at the Provost Marshal's office. We suppose they will be furnished with transportation to their respective homes.—Nashville (Tenn.) Press.

SOUTHERN WRIT.—When the train was stopping at a small place near Weldon, a robust Georgia trooper hailed one of the many loungers about with: "Say, you Yankee, got any tar for sale?" The native son addressed answered rather shortly to his gallant's question: "No, sirree." "Well, you've got some pitch here, haven't you?" "Nary pitch," answered the Yankee. "Well, then, what have you done with 'em; for you live on such stuff?" About this time the long, lean specimen of a tar-maker brightened up and replied: "Well, we sold all we had to Jeff. Davis." The Georgian thrown off his guard did not resist asking, "Why, what did old Davis want with all that tar?" Quoth the man of pitch, "Why, you Georgians run so, that he had to buy something to make you stick."—N. Y. Evening Post.

FROM THE SOUTH.

New York, Dec. 9.—The Richmond

Whig of the 6th says: We have reason to believe from all we have heard that Sherman's army has united and is marching with measured pace towards the coast, south or southwest of Millen. We also have reason to anticipate a battle at some point north or northwest of Savannah, ere the close of the present week.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 6th says:

We learn that an official telegram received last night, states that Wheeler has indicated a severe blow upon the enemy. The locality of this fight is not given for sufficient reasons. One corps of the enemy and Kilpatrick's cavalry attacked Wheeler in a strong position. They came up boldly to the attack and made several charges all of which were repulsed by Wheeler's men, who, though largely outnumbered maintained their ground and raked down the foe. The dispatch states that the enemy lost heavily and it was reported that Kil-patrik was wounded.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 6th says

Sherman seems to be becoming more alarmed or more exhausted, for five days up to last Friday he made only five miles per day. He has lost so much time and gave the Confederates opportunity to gather, that he must of necessity strike for Sarannah or Beaufort. He was expected at Savannah on the 6th ult., and all that night the shipping off that port threw up signal rockets for his guidance.

Richmond papers say Grant is massing on the extreme right of the army of the James and attacks by him there, and by the left of the army of the Potomac were expected.

New York, Dec. 9.—Richmond papers of the 7th, say that Sherman's campaign is drawing to a close. He is approaching the coast by way of Darien and Savannah, but we have a formidable force between those points, which he will have to encounter before reaching either point. We think Sherman is done with strategy and will now attempt to break through our forces and thus attempt to reach the sea coast.

Things will culminate this week. We think Sherman is in a critical condition.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Richmond papers have the following: A Frederickburg letter dated the 6th, says it is reported that 6,000 troops have just passed down the Potomac to re-inforce Grant. Four thousand of these are from Sheridan's army and 2,000 are new recruits.

New York, Dec. 9.—The Port Royal

Herald of the 5th says: Three deserters from Savannah arrived at Port Paliski on the 30th. They report Sherman advancing on Savannah in three columns; one by way of Millen, one by the Ogeechee and Omulgee rivers and another across the Savannah river at Sisters Ferry 7 miles above. He flanked Macon but did not stop to occupy the place. He had whipped

Wayne's and Cobb's militia at Ogeechee bridge, arriving there in every direction.

FROM FOSTER'S DEPARTMENT.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

Louisville, Dec. 9.—The Journal's

Nashville special of the 8th says there is no change in the general situation. There has been skirmishing on the front of the 4th corps and the enemy were driven back to their old line. But few casualties resulted.

Prisoners report Cheatham commanding rebel regiments in Lee's center and Stewart's left.

A rebel brigade left in the direction of Murfreesboro. It is not known whether for foraging or to attack Murfreesboro.

One of our batteries on Stewart's front opened this morning but elicited no reply.

Gen. T. J. Wood retains command of the 4th corps.

Louisville, December 9.—Burbidge and command were at Bean's Station on the 6th. His forces are well organized, supplied and in good spirits. This movement of Burbidge on Breckenridge's flank had compelled the latter to withdraw his entire force beyond Bull's Gap, excepting a small cavalry force.

Vaughn was reported at Chucky Bend with a cavalry force, and Bushrod Johnson at Jonesboro, but both reports are considered doubtful.

Louisville, Dec. 9.—Considerable excitement existed here yesterday from the arrest of gamblers and impressment of horses. Street cars were temporarily stopped for want of motive power. A gang of Gentry's men took possession of Lagrange yesterday afternoon, after injuring the railroad so as to disarrange the trains for a day or two.

The Journal says: Its own impression that Breckenridge will turn up in a new and unexpected quarter before long.

FROM EUROPE.

Look at the Winter.—If you have not looked at the winter of the year, and not been impressed by their dreary monotony, by the unattractiveness of planting trees, shrubs and deciduous plants, then must that man indeed be dead to the most of the beauties of the winter. The winter is right royal in its magnificence when covered with the green mantle of spring, when the zephyr winds of summer wear their glorious covering of vegetable growth, or when decked with the varied hues of autumn. But now when frost and storm have been so long, have changed their grandeur to the dullness and dreariness of a darker, men are led, or should be led to look about for means to diversify and beautify the landscape. Whether your garden nurserymen—God bless them!—put up on top down the prices of their stock, we hope a large share of the surplus money of well-to-do farmers will find its equivalent therein. It need not be the work of many years to make beautiful our now dull winter landscape.
